We are looking for distributors in various markets worldwide.

ELMOTEC is a family owned Swiss company established in 1989. The development, construction and production of controlled soldering equipment and machines is the main focus of our company. ELMOTEC specializes in solving application problems by using the latest and most advanced technology.

We are at the forefront of the growing demand and interest from customers globally for soldering equipment and we are looking for distributors to represent and sell our products.

Do you have excellent knowledge of soldering products and established networks in this market? Are you interested in building a relationship with an innovator in the soldering technology environment?

What can you expect from us?

- Unique quality products like our SolderSmart, soldering equipment or wire feeder
- Close cooperation and collaboration from our base in Switzerland
- Professional and deep training of all our product offerings
- Continuous support and help

Are you interested? We are looking forward to get to know you, please contact us as follows: info@elmotec.ch
